

**** NEW PUBLICATION ****

Derbyshire Blue John

Trevor Ford

Contents

Foreword by the Duke of Devonshire
The special features of Blue John
The origin of the name Blue John Caverns and mines with Blue John
Geological history of the Peak District
Mineral deposits of the Peak District
The mineral deposits of Treak Cliff
The mineralogy of Blue John
The Blue John veins
Banded fluorite similar to Blue John
Mining the Blue John
Production of decorative Blue John
Blue John not with the Romans
The discovery of Blue John Matthew Boulton and Blue John
Blue John in fireplaces
Blue John into the 19th century
The Blue John craftsmen
Blue John at Castleton
Blue John through to the 21st century
Notable collections of Blue John

This is a fully revised, expanded and updated Third Edition of the classic text first published in 2000

The definitive and comprehensive account of Blue John mineral, describing its discovery, geology, mineralogy and mining, and its uses in ornaments, jewellery and inlay over the years

80 pages, 233 x 173 mm, all in colour.
137 photographs, 15 maps and diagrams
Original material by the late Trevor Ford
Edited by Tony Waltham and Noel Worley

ISBN 978-095197-179-6
Published March 2019
by the East Midlands Geological Society secretary@emgs.org.uk

Cover price only £6.50p
In book outlets throughout the Peak District
Mail order on-line at www.moorebooks.co.uk
Trade orders to booksales@emgs.org.uk

